

Building a Career with the Construction Ambassador Programme

Pictured taking part in the recent Construction Ambassadors' forum are (back row, l-r) Shauna Young, McLaughlin & Harvey; Amanda Stevenson, CITB NI; Shannon McGilligan, Henry Bros; Nicola McCracken, Lorna Hagan, Constructtuition; Lindsay Galbraith, Farrans; Claire McGeary, Gilbert Ash; Ciara McDevitt, Gilbert Ash; Wendy Beatty, William & Henry Alexander (Civil Engineering) Limited with (front row l-r) William McMullan, CITB NI; Joanne Graham, Gilbert Ash; Maria Bradley, Gilbert Ash and Peter Kerr, Dawson Wam.

THE Construction Industry Training Board Northern Ireland (CITB NI) has been working to promote careers in construction and future initiatives through its Construction Ambassador programme.

The programme helps promote career opportunities within the industry via ambassador visits to schools and attending careers events. Ambassadors come from across construction and provide a real-life perspective of working in the industry. They also provide first-hand information, interact with potential new entrants and careers influencers.