

Construction Teachers Forum Launched

Pictured launching the CITB NI Construction Teachers Forum are (l-r) William McMullan from CITB NI; Cathy Keyes from Christian Brothers Grammar School Omagh; Tom Heaney from Ballymena Academy and Amanda Stevenson from CITB NI

THE Construction Industry Training Board Northern Ireland (CITB NI) has officially launched the Construction Teachers Forum.

The forum, part of CITB NI's ongoing Build Your Career – a future in construction programme for schools and students, will provide an opportunity for teachers of construction qualifications to get together to discuss best practice for training delivery, share ideas, resources and develop solutions.

Seventeen post-primary schools came together for the inaugural meeting which will meet regularly throughout the year to co-ordinate activity and determine collective efforts for delivery. It is hoped this will enhance the teaching of construction qualifications in schools across Northern Ireland.

